The Prince of Wales. By the arrival of the steamer City of Baltimore, on Tuesday, from Queenstown on the 15th inst., we learn that the Prince of Wales had not yet arrived in England. The Rayal party sailed from Portland on the 22d of October, and had therefore been out 24 days. It would seem that some unessiness was felt in view of this delay, from the fact that the steamer Himslays had been sent in search of the Royal party, and other veasels are getting in readiness to follow. It was not expected that the Prince would make a quick trip. It is probable that the officers of the squadron have taken unusual precantions for safety, and the delay may

A SAMPLE OF "CHIVALRY,"-The Honorable (7) R. B. RHETT, of South Caroline, in a speech at Charleston, the other day, made use of the following polits and truthful language:

They (the Republicans) have elected a Southern renegade—spewed out of the becom of Kentucky into Illinois—and a Northern white-washed or neteroon nulusatio, to be President and Vice President of the United States.

Now, does Mr. Ruxty, or any of his coadjutors, really suppose that the people of the North can be infinenced by such crazy and disgraceful talk? Or is it merely his influence and exasperate the Bouth beyond all resson.

THE CARCADE BRIDGE of the New York THE CASCADE BRIDGE of the New lork and Eric Railroad, one of the wonders of American engineering, is about going the away of all wooden bridges. Crossing a chasm 185 feet deep, its destruction by fire would have interrupted the business of the road for a long time. An article in the People's Preis of Tuesday evening, headed "The Oak Creek Murder," in reply to the Sentings on the same have been answered in yesterday's issue.

bailable -- (let it be remembered, that the SEF. TIREL always advocated capital punishment) -the writer in the Press says, "that in cases of murder, where bail is tolerated, it should be much larger than for any other offence, and such as to place a proper setimate upou human life."

New, we had supposed, and do yet suppose, that it was not by bail; but by punishment for murder that a proper estimate upon human life could be placed. We have always opposed, and do yet oppose making murder a bailable offerce. But when the Legislature of the State has made murder those accused of murder, must be governed by the same rules that would guide a Court in fixing the bail in other cases. The coustitutional provision in the "bill of rights," says " excessive ball shall not be requir-

In order to get those three men liberated, nuder the bail, as fixed by Judge Mallony, it was necessary to have their bondsmen qualify, or to show to the satisfuotion of the Court, that they, the bouds men, were the owners of SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS Worth of unincumbered real estate, over and above that which is example.

Isu't that amount "expassive ?" Is it not the archives of the year? Count them up! the meaning of the word "excessive?"-Place them down thers. Count up the days Let us ask the writer this question: Supof suffering; set them down. Now foot up Pose, to day, a man worth, in real estate or the glorious sunshiny days in which Hope ensumbered and exempt, thirty thousand was bounding like a school boy, and the dollars, is accused of murder, examined on blood lospt slong in the full delirium of the charge, and no more evidence found health and happiness. In this case it nature has been a round of successes, and here | might not be called excessive, for the man has the means of giving it! But suppose another, acoused of the same charge, under the same amount of evidence, and same bail required; this second man is comparatively counting room. Brush the gold dust out of poor, has only two thousand dollars worth of real estate, cannot secure a friend; he cannot give bell to the same amount as the other, and has thus to lie in jail. In the first case wealth secures freedom. In the second case poverty restrains liberty. The object of the bill of rights was not to scenre freedom and unrestrained liberty to those only who have wealth, but to guard and guarantee it slike to all. Poverty ought not to exclude a man from justice; no man ought to be "compelled to purchase justice." In our candid opinion, neither Thomas Jainies, SEAMAN HAFFER OF JOHN HAFFER Would

But, if anguous to the etstate that makes murder a common case of essault and battery can be so conducted by the management of the Municipal Court as to swell the costs to two hundred dollars, what as pense might not be incurred in a case of grand larceny? It was intended, and was made u provision of the bill as originally drafted, that all process of said Court should be served by the police, and for such service, the police, being salaried officers, municipal officers, should receive no compensation. It was also calculated to extend the invisdiction of the police- for the service of process of the Municipal Court only, and for no other purpose -to the limits of this County. Policemen were to receive no feed as witnesses; a great part of the ordinary expenses attending a Court were thus to be dispensed with, the police performing the services for nothing (extra to their solary) thereby suring a great expense to the County.

over and newspaper reports confirm our most sanguine expectations of the success of the success of the Republican party in, not only this State, but in the United States; and now the topics of conversation and newspaper discutsions are turned on the policy to be pursued by the several departments of government. There is a matter of State policy which, as yet, has received little or no attention from the press of our State. And one, too, of no small importance to the inhabitants of the State, which is to come before the next session of our Legislature—I mean the appor-State, which is to come before the next session of our Legislature—I mean the apportionment, or re-districting the State, for members of the Senate and Assembly. This is a matter which has not, in the heat of the contest just ended, been as fully canvassed before the people, as its importance would seem to demand. Our Constitution makes this result in the Senathern States: seem to demand. Our Constitution makes this result in the Southern States:

The Constitution also says that "the number of the members of the Assembly shall never be less than fifty-four, nor more than one hundred. The Senate shall consist of a number not more than one-third, nor less then one-fourth of the number of the Assembly."

Our Legislature is at present composed of minety-seven members in the Assembly and thirty members in the Senate. It devotes upon the Legislature just elected, to say whether the present number shall be increased, diminished, or remain as it is.

These Vatches have now been in market for near ly ren years, during which time they have been to-ted as to recursely, durability, and reliability in er-ery concessable memore, and have proved the prelives to be the most sath factory time-pieces ever offered

This result has been brought about by a since application of mechanical release to the construction of the Watch from its very inception, rendering it when finished, mathematically correct in all its proportions, and necessarily as perfect a time-respect at its possible to make.

The Company have resent their Watches in many instances, by actual daily noting, and the result of this tast has been that they have exhibited a rate function. equal to regularity to the bast marine chronome-

AMERICAN WATCHES. - Nearly a year ago, ware-sived from Messra. Robbins & Appleton, Goneral Agents of the American Watch Company, and poid-for a good looking watch, "warranted," with the requast that after thorough trial we should say what we thought of it, editorially. It has been our con-stant companion nearly a year. We have had no fault to find with the way it has ticked the time. We io not want a better timepiece than this has proved to to thus far. Once regulated (and we regulated it ourself) it has searcely veried about minute a month from transit time." Added to ste quality as a good time keeper, it is honestly and substantially made. JOHN C. CALHOTA'S VISION.

The following most remarkable an dainbonds that units in peace and prosperity all the God given blessings that have descended to us from former generations. Read it, all you who would raise an uphallowed hand to you who would raise an unhallowed hand to pluck a single star from our national escatcheon, or crose a single stripe from the banner of the free. Read it, all ye who deliberately and unblushingly key plans for the diamenderment of all that the frue American holds dear, and the true patriot cherishes as his blood-bought birth right, and remember that though that hand may not be palsied in this life, yet the mark of the traitor shall reat upon it in the world to come:

MR, CALHOUN'S DREAM. Mr. Rouron: - The other morning, at the breakfast table, our friend, the Hon. John breakfast table, our friend, the Hon. John C. Calhoun, seemed very much troubled and out of spirits. You know he is altogether a a venerable man, with a hard, stern. Scotch-Irish face, softened in the expression around the mouth by a sort of sad smile, which wins the eye of all who converse with him. His hair is snowy white. He is thin, tall and angular. He reminds you very much of Old Hickory. That he is honest, no one doubts; he has sacrificed to his fatallem his brightest hopes of political advancement—has offered up on the shrine of that necessity which he worships, all that can excite ambition—even the Presidency of the United States.

States. But to my story: The other morning at the breakfast table, where I, an observed spectator, happened to be present, Calhoun was observed to guze at his right hand, and Calhoun's disquietude.

makes me see perpetually a black spot— like an ink blotch—upon the back of my right hand, optical delusion, I suppose." Of course those words excited the curiosity of the company, but no one begged the details of his singular dream, until Toombs blotch that I seem to see there now. 'What Is that?' cried I, alarmed, I know not why, at the blotch on my hand. 'In the blotch on my hand. 'In that,' said he dropping my hand. 'In is the mark by which Benedict Arnold is known in the next world.'

"the said no more, gentleman, but drew Trom beneath his cloak an object which he placed upon the table—placed it upon the yery paper upon which I was writing. That object was a skeleton.

"There,' said he, 'there are the bones of Isaac Hayne, who was hung at Charleston by the British. He gave his life in order to establish the Union When you put your name to a declaration of dissolution, why, you may as well have the bones of Isaac Hayne before you. He was a South Circlinian, and so are you. But there was no blotch upon his right hand.'

"With these words the intruder left the room. I started back from the contact with the dead man's bones, and—awoke. Overworn with labor, I had fallen asleep and had heen dreaming. Was it not a singular dream?"

Severnor Gist's Message. COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 27,

Gov. Gist, in his message, devotes many pages to local and State affairs. To says the view of seconsion becomes doubly important. We will have direct trade with Europe, and advises the State to foster en-Europe, and authors the State to inster en-terprises for such purposer, by guarantees of 5 per cent. Referring to the postal matter, he says he authorized by the Postanasier at Charles-ton, to say that as soon as the State secoles, ha will sever his connection with the fariers government and obey the call of the State This, together with the resignation of the Postmaters generally, would enable the State to establish her postal arrangements herself unembarressed. He suggests as a temporary expedicul to use Adams' Express. He further suggests that probably arrange-ments will be made between South Carolina and the federal authorities for a given time until other States secode and a Southern confederacy is formed. He also says if the Federal Government union after the ordinance of secassion, the present postal arrangement Tanat cease, and another, under State and their own better their slave property in their own borders and the only alternative left them is same patient by their own act, or left them is same patient. He hopes, howingists on considering Bouth Caroline in the left them is amancipation by their own act, or action of their confederates. He hopes how-aver, that all the Slave States will units in a Southern Confederacy. He advises the pas-sage of a most stringent law against abolition ndiaries, to supercede lynching, and deter Northern invaders.

The Governor, in referring to the action of South Carolina, in sending Mr. Memminger to Virginia, and the failure to obtain the confederation of the Southern Conference, except Mississippi and Alabama, he says all hopes of a concerted action of the States hopes of a concerted action of the States are lost, and but one course is now left South Carolina to act consistently with honor, interest and safety, and that looks neither to the right nor to the left, but go straight forward to the consummation of her pur-pose. It is too late now to receive proposi-tions for a Conference, and South Caroline. would be wanting in self respect to entertain propositions looking to the continuence of the present Union.

The Governor entertains 'no reasonable The Governor entertains 'no reasonable doubt that Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Texas and A'kanasa, will immediately follow, and other Southern States will eventually complete the galaxy. He says it is gratifying to know that if a resort to arms is "secessary, we have a tender of vointeers, from all of the Southern and some of the Northern States, who will flook promptly to her relief and share her fortunes. He concludes thus: I cannot permit preself to believe that in madness or pasmyself to believe that in madness or passion an attempt will be made by the present or next Administration to coerce South Carolina, after surrender, by refusing to surrendur the harbor defences, or interfering with the imports or exports; but if I am unistaken we must accept the issue and meet it as be-comes men and freemen who infinitely prefer amnihilation to disgrace.

_ ----MARINE NAWS.

The steamblin Detroit arrived from Grand Haves 12 statesh Tuesday night, and the Milwaulies a few hours later, bringing over about 300 tone of freight beeveen them, and the Detroit 27 passengers. The $D\epsilon$ troit left on her return at 1 welook yesterday, and the Milia aukas at 8 last evening, both beavily loaded with flour and provisions. The exuse of their delay winds, causing a fremendious sea on the opposite shore, and rendering egress from the harbor, in its present state, extremely difficult. It being necessary to turn almost broadside to the waves, going in or out, in or-der to avoid the bar that obstructs the entrance. Ca the last 64p over to Grand Haven there was such a gale blowing that the captain of the Milwoukee decored it prudent to stay outside all night rather then ettampt to go in. The harbor at Grand Haven is natu-rally an excellent one, but it needs some improve ment; the Company have expended a large sum in building a fine pier on the south side of the entrance and they reasonably look to the Government for aid to carry the improvement to completion. During Westerly gates Grand Haven to the only post on the East side of the Lake to which vessels can look for shelter, and in view of this ract the Government should not hesitate to appropriate a sufficient amoun to render it a safe rejuge for the commerce of the

ARRIVALS FROM BELOW. The propeller Benona, of the New York Central Line, the Pittsburgh and Budalo, of the New York & Eric Line, arrived from Euffaio yesterday, all heavily onded with merchandise. The Granite State, of th Northern Transportation Company, also arrived from Igdensburgh. They bring no intelligence of additional disasters. Capt. Davis, of the Granite State, reports three or four vessels in shelter at the Manitous, and states that he saw s fore-and-aft schooner on the White Shools, which is the same one reported

THE LAST TREE OF THE OLD COUNTY. The propeller Oyonts steamed into our port yes erday morning on her last trip. She is to be taken to Mankowec, where her engine and all also that is available will be transferred to a new vessel under contract at that place, for Capt. Guodricu. She has served long and faithfully, and what is rare in sleamcet history, dies a natural death. Peace to her remains. The Huron takes her place for one trip to Green Bay. The propeller Rocket will hereafter ply on the Two River route in place of the Huron.

SCHOONER AUGUSTUS HANDY, This vessel, reported to be leaking badly in South Bay, with the loss of hereanyas and boat, had a cargo of 15,000 bus of wheat, shipped by J. D. Colver of this city, and insured in the Home, of New York for $15,500.
